A Splendid Two-horse Wagon for 885. THE CONGRESSMAN.

The following counties have selected dele gates to the Republican Congressional Convention, to be head on the 19th of August: Wit-Bams, Paulding and Putnam. The lieyan Press says the delegates, as far as ascertained, stand Williams - Assley 20, Pratt 6. Deflance - Assley 8, Pratt 2. Paulding - Pratt 8.

Putnam-HALL 10, The delegations of these four counties, con prising a little over one-third of the Convention are about equally divided between Mr. Asurev On this subject, the Press, which heretofure has never failed to support Mr. Ashlay's claims both to a nomination and an election, now says It is becoming evident that there is a serious disaffection in the Republican party of the 10th District toward Mr. Ashley. Thus far we have District toward Mr. Ashley. Thus far we have taken no part in this controversy, but as a friend to Mr. Ashley from the start, we feel in duty called upon to say that it would not only be a gross blunder but a crime to renominste Mr. Ashley if grave doubts exist of our ability in elect him. We ask our delegates from Williams to give Mr. Pratt's claims their serious and candid consideration. Let them act unbiased by personal feelings, for the good of the entire party. This is all we have to say.

A friend of the ilou. Jas. M. Ashley writes us from Toledo to know how much Mr. Ashley will run behind his ticket in Williams County. As we have been asked that question at least one hundred times, by as many different persons, we will answer right here, that Mr. Ashley's friends here estimate that he will hose from 75 to 130 roles in the county.

The Defiance Express says : Mr. Ashley's record during the war, in grap-pling with the enemies of his country, is truly worthy to embellish the pages of history, but now that the "amoke of the battle is fairly cleared from the field," and we see the enemy has changed his base for a more terrific attack, we want men capable of grappling with him in his new stronghold, and reinstating the national hon-tering in the page of the page of the pations. new atronghold, and reinstating the national innor to its former high standard among the nations of the world. The people deman it and it will be done. Mr. Ashley should recognize the situation and accept the terms so generously held out to him by an admiring constituency, by withdrawing his name from the arena of contention, and allowing the will of the people to triumph.

In speaking of the Democratic nomination We must oppose Mr. Hoag's election through principle, and by presenting a more capable man for the position, and so by attempting to underrate his popularity in his party. That will not do. Let the Republican Convention on the 19th of August select a man that will cost the party no rotes, and we will show the Democracy a united front, and defeat their hopes of a division in our ranks that now buoys them almost to enthusiasm.

in article, published in a recent issue of the Tolado Binde, gave an array of figures to show the strength of Mr. AsnLEY, as compared with the other districts of the State. The following facts are elicited from the same figures by another correspondent in a subsequent issue of of that paper, which do not show the strength of Mr. Ashtar in a very flustering light. The reviewer of "Justice" says : The aggregate vote of all the Congressmen i The aggregate vote of all the Congressmen in this State in 1865, shows a "shortage," as compared with the State tinket, of 2,217 votes, or an average of 116 to each Congressman. Asulay falls short 440 votes—more than one-fifth of the whole, 350 votes more than one-fifth of the whole, 350 votes more than the average, and morely double as many as Schenek, who stands next in the list of "shortage." How the papularity of Mr. Asulay can be demonstrated by these fewers can not be seen unless the south. these figures can not be seen, unless through the new French telescope which turns things up-

One other fact we gather from the communication of "Justice," somewhat significant in the present circumstances: that the two Congressmen which run for the first time in 1866—Hamilton and Wilson—full short, the former only 52 votes and the latter 28 votes, an average of teas than one-teach of America's shortage. Thus fact exemplifies the belief now very prevalent, that new men monetimen add great strength to party merements. It is uncluse to disquise the fact—one which the most planshic or ariself figuring san not recover or lessen—that Mr. A. can not carry the full strength of the party. In 1882 he was elected by a plansity, felling behind the Blaic licket 3,400. In 1864 he full behind 1,264 votes, and in 1869, the last contest, when all opposition was quicted, when he was nominated in other fact we gather from the commun

Perrysburg Journal, by acclamation, he fell behind the State ticket District but one, in which he gained two votes.
Would it not be well for Republicane to pond ron these facts? They are full of suggestions as to their daty in the imperiled condition of Asm. e. T. I shall ask you to publish some views in opposition to your own, as expressed in a few of the last issues of the JOURNAL.

A leading Republican paper in this District, in communiting upon the propriety of renominating him for Congress, has particularly mentioned that he is supported by only one paper, as evidence that he is supported by only one paper, as evidence that he is supported by only one paper, as evidence that he is supported by only one paper, as evidence that he is supported in his District, and, therefore, can not be elected, if nominated. Now, I will ask, what is the use of having a Convention, if it is believed that the party cannot elect a candidate that the majority wishes to nominating the man of their choice, through fear that the manerity will defeat him, then the misority will rule, and not the supports, the majority. Suppose we do not dispute the fact that but one paper supports him, and at the same time admit that the press is usually the recognized expensed of public sentiment in the locality where poblished, yet if it should turn out that the great man, of the Republicans in the District about.

poblished, yet if it should turn out that the great mans of the Republicans in the District should, in the coming Convention, declare he was their first choice for renomination, would it be advissible to refrain from nominating him because the singular occurrence had taken place, that he had an unpopular newspaper reputation among the papers they deily and weekly read? Should the views of nine or ten editors, who are interested in twing to make it appear that he is unpopular, prevail against the fact of his great popularity among the masses, and that they with great manimity, desire his renomination?

gake at such time and place as the respective county committees may designate (except hose delegations already elected in accordance by regularly called conventions, will represent their own counties), to meet at Napoleons on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1848, to nominate a candidate for Representative in Congress, and a Presidential Elector for said District, at the ensuing election. The several counties will be entitled to me delegate for very one hundred voted, and one for each fraction of fifty rotes given for Governor Hayen, at the last State election—giring a delegation as follows:

Republicans in this bisariet wish to retain Mr. Ashev's sorvices in Congress, will they be de-Asitary's services in Congress, will they be de-terred from renominating him because a few Hunker Republicans have frightened the press

Hunker Republicans have frightened the press out of its prapriety?

Do your suppose that Mr. Ashley's friends are such cowards that they will surrender their votes to the charges of nine presses, the num-ber said to be opposed to him in the District? Ballots in the hands of these who know how to use them, can make and mmake printing-press-es, if they intentionally oppose the wishes of the neonle.

es, if they intentionally oppose the wishes of the people.

If Mr. Asitier has done any thing that unfits him to be returned Congress, that his constituents are ignorant of, let the press publish it so that they can have the benefit of the information. But because a few individuals in Toledo and in Perrysburg are opposed to Mr. Asitier now, as they have been heretofore, it does not follow that his friends should abandon him, especially, if he is the choice of the majority in the District This is a free Government and the majority should rule. Let Mr. Asitier and others go before the Convention. Wheever gets the nomination fairly, abould be unanimously supported at the poils. If Mr. Asuray should be renominated in opposition to the combined efforts of the press to defeat him, it will be the best evidence in the world that he is the strongest man in the party and ought to be renominated.

If the question were submitted to the Repub-licans of Wood County by popular vote, who should be their choice for candidate for Con-Ennon.—It has been ascertained that the Congressional Committee have made an error in the representation of Williams County, which they place at 26, based on 2,509 votes for HAYAS. The correct vote was 2,199, which would make the representation 22. The error will undoubtedly be corrected at the Convention.

In another place will be found a communication, in which the writer's main argument brought forward why Mr. Ashley should receive the nomination, is because the Republican papers of the District are opposed to him. There is a discovery yet in reserve for some one, and that is, that in this instance the press is the exponent of the will of the surjority, and not the sainority, of the people.

We learn that Mr. Hall, his been represented in this parties of the district of the county as having testered to the interests of Bowling Green, in the commy-seat question, while in the southern portion he is represented as having been identified.

Congressional Committee have made an error in the representation to be remominated.

If the question were submitted to the Republicans of Wood County by popular vote, who should be their cheirs for Land of March 20, and ought to be remoinated.

IN MEMORY OF CHARLIE ROACH. Died July 11, 1868, aged 13 months and 5 days.

There's a new cloud of grief just entered our hearts,
And a shadow 's crept into our home;
There 's a sad sorrow darkening our hearthstor again,
Making all things seem strangely and lone.
For we miss a sweet face, with bright baby eyes,
That were laughing and blue as the Summer

There 's a new little grave in the church-yard

green,
Where the violets and daisies grow;
The sweet birds are singing there all the day long,
And the soft Summer breezes blow. And the angels come down When the night-des weeps,
And watch o'er the place where our little one alcops.

There 's a new little angel in Heaven above,
That has joined the asintly choir;
It is charished there by an arm of love,
That will never, never tire.
And we smile through our tears that so wearily
fall,

For we know he was blest when he answered God's call.
